

WebStudy COURSELIVE™

WEBSTUDY 'Learning' CMS with CourseLive™, goes way beyond text-based CMS delivery with a fully integrated audio video tool to enhance teacher student interaction in assignments, discussion forums, tests, email, virtually anywhere

With WEBSTUDY 'Learning' CMS with CourseLive any user can:

- Drag & drop live (or previously recorded) audio and video sessions anywhere in your course
- Engage students in a synchronous (live) recordable session without extensive training

Benefits:

- Audio and video recording capabilities are tightly integrated in the WEBSTUDY CMS
- Instructors can conduct live virtual office hours
- Students and instructors OR students in groups can conduct live meetings
- Any user can create customized audio-visual content as the assignment or a submission to an assignment
- Extend discussion board or forums beyond text based format to include A/V postings and A/V responses – a real asset for online language courses
- Students benefit from easy repetitive replay of recorded explanations on complex topics
- Gives instructors an easy way to record audio-visual material to complement a classroom
- Set-up a live instructor-student (or instructor-guest speaker) exchange in real time
- Instructors create customized audio-visual content - applied to a theory or complex topic

Background

The WEBSTUDY product suite includes online learning solutions that go beyond traditional course management systems. WEBSTUDY is the only CMS provider to offer software as a service (SaaS) freeing schools from hardware/ software hidden costs, unnecessary downtime and protracted implementations.

Conceived by a professor and a student, WebStudy's philosophy is to enable faculty to help students succeed and aid administration and faculty in launching quality learning programs. Our tools will demonstrate to accrediting bodies that your institution is committed to producing well-prepared students
