Our Products

WebStudy 'Learning' CMS version 9.0 is more than a CMS. A 'Learning' CMS revolutionizes education by enabling students to chart their own progress at their own pace, taking the anxiety out of learning.

Version 9.0 includes both synchronous and asynchronous learning environments. It includes streaming video of custom or telecourse titles from well-known video producers, digitized for multiple players and speeds (CourseStream). You can place video segments into group discussions, team presentations and in tests and quizzes.

Instructors can create customized content recorded direct from their desktop. Interactive learning segments may be created in real-time sessions or recorded and archived (CourseLive). Combine live audio and video via a webcam with power point presentations or pre-determined content.

- CourseStream (CS) is compatible with any CMS and can be licensed separately
- CourseLive (CL) is compatible with any CMS and can be licensed separately

Affordable Academic Excellence & Service

Through our TryStudy plan, we offer a progressive pricing option based on actual deployment and use, rather than on campus size. This gives colleges and universities the opportunity to incorporate online learning without a major upfront investment.

All WebStudy products are hosted and fully supported at the administrator, instructor and student levels 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. WebStudy collaborates with clients for development of its intuitive products and is SCORM certified.

The WebCouncil Experience

As the WebStudy Revolutionary Experience demands faculty and students to work together more cohesively, college and university faculty and administrators need increasingly more flexible and responsive ways to conduct productive meetings.

The WebCouncil Experience is a powerful offer used to facilitate discussions/meetings using a variety of eleven web-based communications tools, such as surveys, sorting and brainstorming. WebCouncil combines appropriate communication and collaborative technologies utilized in both physical and virtual environments – a process customized to fit any strategic initiative.
